Job Title: Case Worker – Stronger Families Program

Employee Name:

Program Overview	Aboriginal Family Support Services Stronger Families Program is committed to either keeping children safely at home with their families or, if they have been removed, to have them returned to their family's safe care. We are committed to empower families to cope with the challenges they are facing. We seek to preserve and strengthen family relationships to ensure children and young people live in safe, secure and stable homes. There are 3 services within Stronger Families – Together with Family Service, Intensive Family Service and Reunification Service.
Position Objective	Stronger Families Case Worker, under the direction of the Case Manager, will engage with families to provide support to allow families to build skills and capacity to allow them to keep children safely in their care and remain out of the child protection. This position works alongside families to create plans, build skills and resilience and connect with community and services to build a strong network of supports. In cases where children have been removed and brought into the Child Protection system, the Case Worker will support families to identify and address challenges they are facing that brought them into the Child Protection system and build their capacity. The Case Workers address barriers that are preventing them from providing adequate care for their children. The level of intensity of support will depend on which program the family is working with. In the case of Reunification the Case Worker will work alongside DCP as a key part of the care team and support families at Reunification court as required. Across these 3 services we support families with a range of complex issues such as Loss and Grief, transgenerational trauma, Alcohol and other Drug concerns, Family and Domestic Violence issues, Housing stability, Physical and Mental Health issues, Parenting concerns, school attendance and other factors, which may result in Child Protection involvement.
Reporting Relationships	The Case Worker reports to the Case Manager, who in turn reports to the Senior Manager, Therapeutic Services. The program works closely with the Department of Human Services and Department for Child Protection (DCP).
